brag about his success in foreign policy, but a new Washington Post-ABC News poll has found that he's still not trusted on the issue. A majority of Americans disapprove of how he's doing his job on the world stage and prefer other foreign leaders to him, though he has an advantage among white men. Thirty-nine percent of Americans approve of Trump's performance as a foreign policy leader, while 55 percent disapprove. Americans prefer Russian President Vladimir Putin and Chinese leader Xi Jinping as world leaders, both at 53 percent. Just 38 percent say they trust Trump, while 43 percent say they trust Putin and 31 percent say they trust Xi. "It's not clear why Trump's performance on foreign policy remains so unpopular," said Post-ABC poll co-director Gary Langer. "He has been very effective in dealing with some issues." Trump has been critical of the media for not covering all his wins overseas, such as the recent reversal of a proposed nuclear deal with Iran and the unofficial deal with North Korea's Kim Jong Un. The Iran deal has been largely successful at stopping Iran from becoming a nuclear weapons state, and last week Trump announced that the deal would be honored. Recent Posts In a first-of-its-kind letter, five House Democrats and one Senator have asked the Justice Department to investigate whether the decision to approve the Keystone XL Pipeline has violated the law or federal regulations. They are: congressmen Bob Gibbs, D-OH; Earl Blumenauer, D-OR; Ron Kind, D-WI; Mazie Hirono, D-HI; Greg Walden, R-OR; and Sen. Brian Schatz, D-HI. The group of Congressmen and Senators want to know whether President Obama violated the U.S. Federal Code or the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's regulations when he decided that the Keystone XL Pipeline is in the national interest. The letter is signed by Senators Blumenauer and Hirono; Rep. Gibbs; Reps. Blumenauer, Kind and Schatz; and Senator Schatz. "In its decade-old decision to reject the Keystone XL, the Department has not cited a single provision of law," the letter states. "The Department has not even considered whether the pipeline is consistent with the law. The Department's finding that Keystone XL will be in the national interest has given the project a rubber stamp, and is severely limiting the ability of Congress to evaluate the project or to debate other options to enhance our energy security." The letter cites as evidence the following: "The State Department's Final Environmental Impact Statement shows that the pipeline can be expected to carry over a billion barrels
