Q: How do I call `setView(R.layout.tab_1)` from main activity I have a class `MyListView` which extends a `ListView` that I want to be in the main activity. I want to place an `OnClickListener` on the `MyListView` so that the `onClick` would open up the xml file. `public class MyListView extends ListView{ public MyListView(Context context, AttributeSet attrs) { super(context, attrs); } @Override public View getView(int pos, View convertView, ViewGroup parent) { View v = super.getView(pos, convertView, parent); if (convertView!= null) { //set view setView(R.layout.tab_1); } return v; } public MyListView(Context context, AttributeSet attrs, int defStyle) { super(context, attrs, defStyle); } @Override public boolean onCreateOptionsMenu(Menu menu) { getMenuInflater().inflate(R.menu.activity_main, menu); return true; } }` This is what I currently have, but I'm not sure what to do with the `setView` line...and my current error is:

Ark: Survival Evolved is the evolution of the award-winning Ark: Survival Evolved mod for ARMA 2. Building upon the incredible reception of the first game, Studio Wildcard is taking the gameplay to the extreme, delivering an authentic survival experience that includes dinosaurs, intense PvP combat, and breathtaking vistas that are the envy of AAA games. The giant open world of ARK: Survival Evolved is bigger than any that has ever been seen in the genre, with nearly 400 square kilometers of wilderness to explore. Pre-purchase now on PC to receive 20% of your purchase as a MegaTexture Discount. The first 100,000 pre-orders will also receive a free 3D animal skin tier. This DLC contains the following perks:

- MegaTexture Discount
- In-Game Item Discounts
- Increased Item Quantity
- Animals and Pets Stickers
- Barter Sneak Pick-ups
- Enhanced Food Scarcity
- Revealing Night Eye
- Improved Night Vision
- Balanced Atmosphere
- Autumnist

Of course, as with all of Studio Wildcard's games, ARK: Survival Evolved Premium Edition is also available and includes all of the above, as well as the following perks:

- Increased Lifestone cap
- Improved Water Flowing
- Bounty Hunter mode
- Bug Hunter mode
- Increased base capacity
- Revealing Night Eye
- Improved Night Vision
- Prairie Dog
- Rock Asp
- Cholla
- Elderberry
- Sprint
- Tree Hugger
- Autumnist

As with all of Studio Wildcard's games, all purchases are essentially licenses to unlock the content within. Therefore, players are able to sell their purchased items and unused licenses on Steam or Origin in the same manner as if they were actually wearing the items in-game, and receive all of the in-game benefits as well as the additional content like the Boost. The Center expands the play-space of ARK for you to explore, improve and survive in as we take the genre in new and exciting directions. Studio Wildcard is

My rule is that if your feeling a bit crap at work, or your about to be sat on by your girlfriend or girlfriend's mum then being stood in front of a room full of your mates drinking and playing games will make you feel better. Operation KREEP is a simple game where you sit in a room full of fellow soldiers, wearing ponchos and swat suits your mission is to grab as many beers as you can before you get knocked out. Your not allowed to drink, smoke or talk during a game unless they check your poncho is on, you have flashlights and you're only allowed to use one hand. You must then run to the outside of the room where the anti-alcohol crusaders are stationed, open the big red "No Smoking" sign to their surprise, you then jump behind the sign and put it on ( and your clothes on a bit lower than normal ) while still smoking, then the anti-alcohol crusader will 'chase' you throwing beer bottles and pints. As you run away from the crusader he is chasing you, you can either go left or right, but try not to get seen or caught. When your in the canter, jump behind the big "No Smoking" sign to unlock a door. Once you escape the canter you will unlock two doors, and once you are out of the building and inside the frozen area you are free to do as you want. At the Frozen zone you will be caught by anti-alcohol crusaders, so your only job is to pick up a beer can out of the ice and run as fast as you can to the beer can crusader. These crusaders will throw beer cans, cups, pints and all kinds of beer at you, but if you beat the beer can crusader then it wont count, so you must beat it. ( this bit is where the alcohol can gives you a slight advantage) If you don't have any beer cans they will use a can crusader called the " tin crusader " that resembles a retro tin crusader, and is the most dangerous crusader. Your mission is to run as fast as you can and grab a beer can and run back to your crusader, and it's up to you to beat that crusader, if you can pick up more cans it will give you a higher score. So how do I win and how can I make my beer can crusader nobleman Peter Stolypin, and it is difficult not to hear the echoes of Vladimir Lenin, who unified the two empires and introduced communism to Siberia before he went on to have his historic short reign, and the attempt to introduce communism to Europe, which cost him and his party their lives. Whether this is the intent of the north pole university, will have to wait for the narrator in the title to tell us in his next book. This is a somewhat whimsical assignment which started when I was presented with the challenge of editing the life of Dr. Robert J. Henry of Newfoundland and Labrador. Dr. Henry, who founded the University in 1983, was considering himself to be “the last practicing physician on the planet.” As a result of Dr. Henry’s efforts, approximately 5500 medical students currently study the practice of primary care medicine in Newfoundland, and Canada. There are 25 universities in Canada accredited for medical studies. In Newfoundland and Labrador, there are 15 medical schools, including primary care training options, and an additional four schools are in the process of accreditation, so there is assuredly room for a north polar university. The university has been growing and attracting students for some time now, and seeking accreditation for the past 5 years. Dr. Henry is the founder of the new university. Peter Stolypin, a Russian Imperial nobleman, who was also Prime Minister of Russia from 1906 to 1911, controlled some of the greatest events in Russian history. Stolypin’s death in the automobile accident foreshadowed by his his Bolshevik assassin Vladimir Ulyanov, also known as Lenin. Stolypin ushered in the end of Russian Empire, ending the reign of Nicholas II. Lenin’s son Vladimir turned against his father. Lenin was exiled to Geneva, where he was later to take control. Stolypin modernized Russia and passed an amnesty to expurgate the Tsarist dictatorship. He attended the wedding of Nicholas II’s sister Princess Alix, and also attended a dinner party at which the Tsar was brutalized and murdered by members of the royal family. These events were mere tremors preceding the 1905 Revolution that overthrew the Tsar. The Imperial family took refuge in Tobolsk, Siberia, which remains the Imperial family’s final place of entombment. This was an underground fortress where the last Imperial family still resides today.
