A simple tool for coordinating team projects, but it's also a powerful tool for individual productivity. "We just need to play the cards." Trello's simple interface makes collaboration easier than ever. Each "board" is composed of (typically) three columns: the title of the project, a list of tasks and the "card" that denotes each task. From the dashboard, you can make edits to existing tasks, create new tasks, and add and update cards from your Windows 8 desktop. You can assign tasks to team members, and also make them public and assign different levels of access as necessary. Use task notes, mark your cards as complete or incomplete, and track important status information including due dates, subtasks, assignees, and comments. You can also search for cards, subscribe to notifications, and view a calendar of pending tasks. Features: * Categorize and organize your projects into boards * Drag and drop your tasks into the column where you want them to appear * Create, move, and merge boards * Raise your notifications to stop receiving updates on the board you're not looking at * View a calendar of your upcoming tasks * Checklists and tasks are automatically separated into columns and you can add checkboxes or sort by due dates or status * Add tasks directly from the task list in Windows 8 * Quickly copy a Task, Card, or List to the clipboard * Receive email notifications when somebody enters your board, adds a task, or changes the status of a card. You can even receive text updates on your mobile device * Quickly add a comment for a task or check the status of a card with basic Markdown * Open attachments from email, files on your OneDrive, and SharePoint or Dropbox * Easily share cards with other users with the new integration with Facebook and Twitter * Create and assign Sub-tasks to a Task * View frequently used boards and cards with a link to the Dashboard * Filter a board or card list by due date, category, or status * Associate a particular color to a board or card to easily find it later * Work with your teammates and co-workers to collaborate on projects * Put the board(s) you want to keep track of into an Inverted Triangle, which changes color when you hover * Use a List instead of a Board to manage projects with a Task List * Set and manage your own checklists * Update cards aa67ecbc25
