The new quarantine ransomware RaaS (Ransomware Attack Simulator) is offering to users infected by Ransomware Wild Panna or Ransomware Gone Wild for a bitcoin ransom to decrypt their files, but as we can see from its default ransom note, it's not very effective at all: I'm here to tell you that I have a special and unique file that encrypt your data without a key and decrypt it after a payment of bitcoins. If you don't want the file put into your computer and lost forever contact me. Change the "decryptor.sh" file Use the following command to change your software, so that I can decrypt your data: chcp 1252 Skype client program or the Skype 2Go! app is the best way to have a conversation face to face with a friend, or a group of friends, from a Windows 7, Vista, 8 or 10 computer. It's a program that lets you do all the things that you can do on an online Skype conversation. It provides you with a full screen video chat session, supports all the video and audio options and even allows you to have a file transfer on the fly. Some other additional features are the chat history, the option to do voice and video calls between two PCs, the ability to take a screenshot (Skype Screenshot), the capability to record and save a voice note, the file transfer, the ability to make an audio call to other Skype users, and the ability to do screen sharing. Download Skype for Windows 7, Vista, 8 or 10 To download Skype, go to the Microsoft website and choose the Microsoft Store. Click on it, then scroll down to the "Browse Store" option and click it to view the Microsoft Store. There you can find the Skype app, as well as other programs, and you can install it for free. The installation process is pretty straightforward. Just launch the Microsoft Store, tap on "Installed apps" and you'll see the Skype app on the
